

David Morley

Partner

David is Head of real estate and also has responsibility for strategy at Actis. He joined Actis in 1990 and has been investing in emerging markets for over 15 years. He was responsible for setting up Actis's South Africa team in 1995.

David has been instrumental in a number of significant investments including: Lenco in South Africa; Africa's Protea Hotels; Infrastructure Finance Corporation in South Africa; TRAC Toll Concessions; and the management buyout of Engro Chemicals in Pakistan. Prior to joining Actis, David spent four years at Swiss-based commodities trader EMD Schluter & Co.

David has a BA in economics and land economy from Cambridge University, an MA in development economics from East Anglia and an MBA from London Business School.